

NORFOLK TO GET BEHIND HIGHWAY TO RICHMOND

"Ridge" Route, via Suffolk, and "Peninsula" Route, via Williamsburg Under Consideration.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] NORFOLK, Jan. 1.—With the holidays over, Norfolk business and commercial interests plan to get actively behind the Norfolk-Richmond highway. Two routes are under consideration, the one involving approximately $2,000,000 and the other $2,500,000.

The Chamber of Commerce has already appeared in committee to act with the Tidewater Automobile Association on the proposition. The route most favored is that known as the "ridge route," by way of Courtland, Suffolk and Petersburg. State Highway Commissioner Coleman, of Richmond, is authority for the statement that the parts of this route now needing permanent improvement can be put in first-class condition for $2,000,000. While twenty-three miles longer than the "peninsula" route through Williamsburg, Norfolk considers the "ridge" route more advantageous as it avoids the necessity of crossing Hampton Roads to Newport News.

The plan now under consideration calls for two towns and counties along the route raise the necessary funds and to be reimbursed later by the general Assembly. This would save nearly a year as the legislative body does not meet until February, 1922.

Commissioner Coleman points out that the State Highway Commission can start work as soon as the money is provided.

Portions of the "ridge" route are already paved from Norfolk to Courtland and from Petersburg to Richmond.

WOMAN ENTERS RACE FOR SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT

Miss Ida Potts, former Schoolmaster in Essex County.

LYNCHBURG, Va., Jan. 1.—Miss Ida Potts, formerly a school teacher and now secretary for State Senator R. A. Russell, at Rustburg, has announced her candidacy for division Superintendent of schools for Campbell County.

This makes four candidates, the others being W. L. Garber, Lawyers, the incumbent; J. H. Hadden, Lynchburg, and J. J. Gray, Narrows. The election will take place by the State Board of Education in Richmond in February.

LYNCHBURG WILL ISSUE $2,000,000 IN BONDS

Plan Improvements to Schools, Streets and Water System and Sewerage.

LYNCHBURG, Va., Jan. 1.—Plans are being matured by the Council of the city here for the issuance of at least $2,000,000 in bonds during the next year to provide for three new school buildings, a city hall, improvements to the city water system and for street improvements.

This it is believed will mean an increased tax rate on realty and tangible personal property. An increase of 25 cents on the $100, which would yield about $50,000, which would practically take care of the interest and sinking fund requirements of the proposed issue. The present rate now is $1.75.

MILL OWNERS FINED FOR CONDITION OF FISH LADDERS

Defendants Claim Contrivances Are All Right in Spawning Season. Court Thinks Different.

HARRISONBURG, Va., Jan. 1.—Complaint has been made in the recent report of the county game warden that several of the fish ladders on the county have impracticable or no "fish ladders" to enable the fish to go upstream for the spawning season. The matter was yesterday called to the attention of the court, when the report was read.

Several mill owners, against whom complaint had been made, were present and declared that the ladders provided were satisfactory in the months of March, April, May and June, when the fish seek to go upstream. It was pointed out that the low water at this season of the year is the circumstance which renders the ladders useless for the time being.

As a result of not having installed ladders of any description two mill owners were fined $125 each by the court. Further action on the matter was deferred until April next, when the game warden will make another inspection during the spawning season.

WEDDING CEREMONY IS PERFORMED IN GREEK

Miss Eugenie Krontz Becomes Bride of George Stefanos in Danville.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] DANVILLE, Va., Jan. 1.—Miss Eugenie Krontz, daughter of Constantin Krontz, was married last night to George Stefanos, a well-known Greek merchant of Chicago, at a elaborate ceremony of the Greek Orthodox Church, attended by practically all the Hellenic colony.

Rev. M. Metaxopoulos, priest of the Greek Orthodox Church of Constantinople, performed the ceremony, assisted by Philomelos Threlkeld, singer. The wedding ceremony lasted an hour and was witnessed in the Green Lodge, the officiating priests being respectfully received.

After the vows had been spoken the cross was outstretched and kissed by those present. Congratulations were offered the bride and groom after the ceremony, which was followed by a banquet. Toasts were made to King Constantine and also to the former Premier, Eleutherios Venizelos.

TWO HOMES BURN AS OWNERS ATTEND DANCE

Negro Shacks in Bridgewater, Va., Destroyed by Fire of Unknown Origin.

HARRISONBURG, Va., Jan. 1.—While the owners were attending a dance Friday night, two homes in Bridgewater, four miles south of here, were destroyed by fire.

It is believed that stove left with fire in them became overheated and set fire to curtains and articles in the rooms.

The dwellings were occupied by negroes, who with the furniture, made a heroic effort to save the contents, most of which was destroyed. Loss was estimated at several thousand dollars.

Bad Cold Causes Light Failure.

DANVILLE, Va., Jan. 1.—All of the lights in the city were out for ten minutes last night between 6:30 and 7 o'clock, or at the very moment when most families were eating supper. This is said to have been caused by an inferior grade of coal used at the city plant, which reduced the steam pressure so that the turbines failed to generate electricity.

LYNCHBURG, Va., Jan. 1.—The Council of the city Monday will elect three women to membership in the City School Board. Five vacancies are to be filled then and a woman is to be elected from each of the three wards. The board has a membership nine.

PRIVATE SETTLES OLD GRUDGE FOR CAPTAIN

B. R. Fink, of Norfolk, Beaten by Samuel Hermann, of New York.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] NORFOLK, Jan. 1.—Results fancied, or real, received two years ago when he was a private at Camp Lee, were wiped out yesterday by Samuel Hermann, a New York salesman, when he met his former company commander, B. R. Fink, of Norfolk, on the street.

Fink, who was twice to the ground and knocked him twice to the ground before he could get an enough speed to escape. As a result of the affair, cross-warrants were issued for both men, charging assault.

Fink, at police headquarters, asserted that Fink, then a captain, had had him transferred to his company out of revenge, and that he had him put to all sorts of distasteful tasks and then came around to gloat over him. Although considerably smaller in height and weight, Hermann declares he made up his mind to take it out of the captain's "hide" and has systematically trained for the event.

Thieves Get $100.

LYNCHBURG, Va., Jan. 1.—Thieves Wednesday night cut the telephone line between Lynchburg and Jacksonton, Campbell County, and hauled off more than $100 worth of goods from the stock. The county auditor files thus far have been able to get no clue as to the identity of the robbers. The goods were carried off in an automobile stolen in Lynchburg and later abandoned near the

IMPROVE MILLS IN HOLIDAY SHUTDOWN

Operatives Are at Work Transferring Looms From Old Building to New One.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] DANVILLE, Va., Jan. 1.—The closing of the Riverside Mills for Christmas has resulted in rapid progress towards equipping the new concrete mill now completed. Large groups of operatives have been busy this week removing from the Riverside group of mills looms to the new structure, which is to contain 2,500 each one driven by its own motor.

The looms are being hauled by small electric motors across the mill bridge spanning Dan River. The looms will be taken up with extra cars, speeder frames and spinning frames.

The construction company which built the mill is working day and night building a concrete retaining wall several hundred feet along the canal bank.
